

STATEMENT IN RESPECT OF COVID-19

The Covid-19 crisis has been elevated to that of a pandemic by the World Health Organisation (WHO).

The rapid spread across the world has led to unprecedented containment measures and a certain degree of mixed signals from Government and other Authorities.

Some events that appear to be high risk are allowed to proceed whilst others are cancelled. The situation is being dealt with on an hour by hour and day by day basis.

OBL Solicitors is monitoring the same and is in full crisis management mode. There will be wider implications from a legal perspective in respect of Insurance matters, force majeure, contract and employee matters but the immediate imperative is the health of our employees, clients and business partners.

We are taking continued guidance from the relevant Health Departments and Authorities whilst ensuring minimum disruption to the legal services provided to our Clients.

At the time of this statement, the Irish Law Courts of all jurisdiction remain open (although this is likely to change) for business but we are tailoring consultations, meetings, presentations and Client interaction by using various remote devices to ensure that our client's needs can be attended to without disruption. This situation continues to evolve and should matter deteriorate further OBL Solicitors will be in a position to continue to service our Clients needs with all relevant employees connected remotely or from home. This is an unprecedented time for all and the situation is changing by the hour. OBL Solicitors will tailor their responses in a swift and measured manner.

OBL Solicitors are committed to maintaining our legal services ensuring you continue to receive the highest quality service without unnecessary interruption.

OBL Solicitors appreciate your continued trust in these unchartered times.
